

Mrs. Nelson Speech

Serving the JCA has been one of the most worthwhile efforts of my voluntary career.

The members of the Association have sacrificed so often for our joint goals around the building that I cannot help but be proud to be a part of this Association.

The Donovan Bailey Reception demonstrated how successful we can be when we all pull together and put our differences aside.

The seniors' regular use of the building indicates how beneficial this centre will be to our community; once youth have programmes here, once women have programmes here, once different community groups have programmes here. I can't wait.

Now that we have the property rezoned, walkers must really walk together and the talkers step aside.

The members must redouble their efforts to raise the necessary funds.

The JCA must get the building message out to the community in the way we did with our rezoning challenge.

Have no fear, I will be stepping down but not stepping aside.

I will continue to work with the seniors and to be available to all the members whenever called upon to serve.

I will cooperate with whomever replaces me to assure continuity.

In closing, let me thank all of my committee members, the Board and all the members of the JCA for bringing the Association to higher level of development with the prospect of our community centre now firmly in our sight.

Thanks Again-. God Bless

A Nelson
